How to be a "Solutionary"

Zoe Weil is the co-founder and president of the Institute for Humane Education and is considered a pioneer in the comprehensive humane education movement that works to create a humane, peaceful, healthy and just world for all people, animals, and the environment through education.

In this public lecture, Weil will address enduring questions which perplex us all, including: How can we solve the grave problems in the world? What role can each person play? How can each of us make choices in our life to do the most good and least harm and transform unjust systems into ones that are peaceful and sustainable? In this interactive presentation, Weil will offer tools and inspiration for becoming a solutionary.

Weil is the author of several books, including Nautilus Silver Medal-winner Most Good, Least Harm: A Simple Principle for a Better World and Meaningful Life (2009), The Power and Promise of Humane Education (2004), and Above All, Be Kind: Raising a Humane Child in Challenging Times (2003).

Weil received a Master's in Theological Studies from Harvard Divinity School (1988) and a Master's in English Literature from the University of Pennsylvania (1983). She is certified in Psychosynthesis counseling, a form of psychotherapy which relies upon the intrinsic power of each person's imagination to promote growth, creativity, health, and transformation.

The UH Bookstore will sell books by Weil for Weil's signing after the lecture.
