The College of Languages, Linguistics, & Literature and the College of Arts & Humanities announce that funds are available from the UH Endowment for the Humanities to support summer research projects that fall within one of the humanities disciplines. Disciplines include: languages (both modern and classical); linguistics; literature; history; jurisprudence; philosophy; archaeology; comparative religion; ethics; and the history, criticism, and theory of the arts. Applicants are not required to be affiliated with the colleges where these disciplines are offered.

Terms of UH Endowment for the Humanities (UHEH) award

- Limit of one application per year
- Funding covers only expenses associated with the actual research
- Maximum award is $5,000 (faculty member is strongly encouraged to apply to other funding sources first)
- Research must take place between May 1, 2015 and August 31, 2015
- Award recipients must submit via email a one-page report to their dean on the research outcome within 30 days of research end date noted on application cover sheet

Eligibility

- Full-time, tenure-track faculty (preference given to junior faculty)
- Faculty member must not be on leave during research period

How to Apply

Prepare an application packet with the following items in the order listed:

1. Completed Summer Research Program Application Cover Sheet (see next page)
2. Description of project, no more than three double-spaced pages in length
3. Itemized budget
4. Travel itinerary (if applicable)
5. 1-2 page CV highlighting recent research and research related to proposed research
